Jewelry Missing

Police Probe 3 Break-Ins

Break-in thieves took their toll of business premises overnight as two city shops reported heavy losses of valuables while a third recovered numerous articles after it was entered.

GENERAL RADIO and Electric, 9922 102 avenue, suffered the heaviest loss after thugs broke in the front door of the premises. The proprietor, M. J. Humen, said that the missing articles include, two mantle radios, an electric drill, electric razor, two large batteries, eight flashlights, two amplifiers, two radio links, a number of radio tubes and $12 cash from the cash register.

Jewelry valued at nearly $100 was stolen from Jean's Antique Shop, 10135 102 street, according to the proprietor Mrs. Harris McLeod.

THE C.R. FROST Plumbers and Gas Fitters, who occupy the same building as the antique shop, were also raided. However they were a little more fortunate. All the property stolen except one electric toaster was later found in a lane half a block north of Jasper avenue just west of 102 street.

The manager, J. W. Brodeur, said that the articles stolen included four electric toasters, five electric irons, one set of taps and dies and one centre sink. Police said they believe the Frost company door had been left unlocked.

Smuts told a press conference afterwards that the royal visit had been "very helpful" and had brought an atmosphere of peace, conciliation and humanity over "a hotch-potch of colors and races."

HALIFAX, April 24 — (CP) — RCMP today closed their books on the $100,000 waterfront theft ring case with the sentence of the last of the seven men charged in the affair. Police smashed the ring last fall. James Edward Hurd, 35, of Shelburne, N.S., yesterday was sentenced to 16 months in jail and fined $600.

NEW YORK, April 24 — (AP) — Joe Louis' scheduled defence of his world heavyweight boxing title June 26 was cancelled today by his 20th Century Sporting Club.

WASHINGTON, April 24 — (AP) — Senator Robert Taft (Rep. O.) led off Senate debate on proposed new union curbs yesterday, telling his colleagues that as the laws now stand "many hundreds of thousands of smaller employers are at the mercy of unions and union leaders."

As he spoke, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor gloomily told a press conference that his federation has abandoned hope of preventing Congress from passing "vicious anti-labor legislation," although "we may succeed in having them remove some of the more objectionable parts."

Taft pegged his argument to the contention that, while in times past the laws gave "all the advantage" to employers, they now give it to organized labor.

Taft, chairman of the Senate labor committee, said that the bill he has approved seeks to amend the Wagner Collective Bargaining Act to remove "injustices frozen in the law." The bill would impose many restrictions on unions, including curbs on their right freely to call strikes, but is not so sweeping as the one the House has approved.

TOKYO, April 24 — (AP) — A heavy storm over Japan brought reports of six deaths and widespread damage today.

WASHINGTON, April 24 — (AP) — A 33-year-old native of Montreal, Belling was given a five-year penitentiary term after a jury in Ottawa found him guilty last Oct. 30 of communicating confidential information to Russia while he was an official of the wartime munitions department.

Smith, a 34-year-old physicist who made a considerable contribution to Canada's wartime development of radar, was sentenced last Dec. 27 to five years in penitentiary for conspiring to give confidential information to Russia.

They termed as "obviously wrong," recent reports that the income tax cut would be a straight ten per cent cut across the board. While almost anything usually goes in any finance minister's first budget, Mr. Abbott would be flying in the face of his recent public statements on the tax structure if he limited his rate cut to a straight 10 per cent.

LONDON, April 24 — (CP) — Yesterday will be remembered as one of the most disastrous days in history for shipping off the British coast, it became apparent today, as tragedy after tragedy was reported in the wake of a blustering gale. More than 50 are feared dead.

Worst disaster was the wrecking of the British oil tanker Samtampa on the South Wales coast. Not only the crew of 42 are believed to have perished but a gallant lifeboat crew of eight apparently drowned in a futile attempt to rescue them.

Another victim was the "Old Lady" of the Royal Navy, the battleship Warspite, driven on the rocks off the Cornish Coast while en route to the scrap heap. She likely will end her days where she now lies, smashed to pieces by the sea.

THE WRECK of the 7,000-ton Samtampa on the sandbanks of Sker Bay, Glamorgan, shocked the countryside and horror heightened when the Swansea lifeboat which went to her aid was found drifting upside down with no trace of the crew.

As the tanker's survivors huddled on the bridge, the other part of the ship split, throwing thousands of gallons of crude oil into the sea. As darkness fell parked automobiles turned on their headlights to aid on the rescue but all in vain.

Out of the angry, oil-blackened surf was tossed one body . . . then another . . . and another, until four lay in a grim row on the sand.

THE SWANSEA lifeboat made two attempts to reach the wreck but failed.

Veteran Trader Reports Rich Deposits Discovered

Rich deposits of gold-bearing ore, hidden challengingly beneath age-old layers of glacial ice and rock near the Canadian Arctic rim north of Akavik, soon may bring a new gold rush to that area in the view of Stan Pfeffer, veteran Akavik trader, who arrived in Edmonton recently.

PEPPER, recognized as the "largest independent fur trader in the far north," revealed to The Edmonton Bulletin Thursday that four prospectors, he believes are working for a "syndicate" made the gold discovery last fall near the mouth of the Firth river, 175 miles north of Akavik, virtually on the edge of the Arctic ocean.

These four prospectors returned to their base at Akavik with high grade ore some time ago, one man lugging a "rice sack full of gold."

On Major Issues Parley Ends In Failure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
 MOSCOW, April 24 (AP)—The four-power conference of foreign ministers, in session since March 10, ended today in disagreement on all major German and Austrian issues.

State Secretary Marshall expressed disappointment that the council had failed to reach agreement on the Austrian treaty and the American-proposed four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed.

THE NEXT MEETING was set for London in November, but there was a possibility that the four foreign ministers might meet earlier in New York, during a session of the United Nations General Assembly.

Marshall was reported planning a formal radio report to the American people as soon as he returns home. His speech, informants said, probably would review his policies here, assess the failures and the few accomplishments listed and outline the course for the future, particularly as it concerns United States-Soviet relations.

WON'T CUT SOAP PRICES IN CANADA
 TORONTO, April 24 (CP)—The 10 per cent reduction in bulk soap prices announced yesterday in the United States, will not apply to Canada, soap company officials said here today. Both Lever Brothers and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet spokesmen explained that their U.S. affiliates operate independently and changes they make have no bearing at all on the Canadian market.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The United States agriculture department predicted today that meat supplies will not be large enough to cause a material price decline unless there is a business recession. Latest reports indicate, the agency said, that consumer demands for meat is at a record level despite current prices.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES RIFLED
 LOOT IN BANK ROBBERY ESTIMATED AT $250,000
 TORONTO, April 24 (CP)—One of the most daring and successful bank robberies in Ontario's history today had police scouring the city for the three armed bandits who rifled between 70 and 80 safety deposit boxes at a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada late last night, escaping with loot that one bank official said might total $250,000.

IT WAS impossible to estimate accurately the amount stolen by the overall clad, masked trio who had bound and gagged the caretaker and his family in their apartment above the bank branch at the corner of Bathurst and College street in West-Central Toronto.

While officials said that the boxes ordinarily would contain anywhere from $1,000 to $5,000 each, one unnamed executive said that "a quarter of a million dollars would not be a bad guess."

The three bandits, heads and faces masked, entered the apartment of caretaker Duncan M. Stuart on the third floor of the bank building about 9:15 p.m. The men tied the caretaker and his wife, their daughter and a visitor, hand

One Miner Known Dead

11 Men Trapped In Flaming Mine

MALABARCTIC, Que., April 24 — (CP) — Fire in the No. 4 shaft of the rich East Malabarctic gold mine early today took the life of one hardrock miner and trapped 11 others far below ground. Known to be dead was Traian Lucaci, 45. Four of an original working party of 16 made their way to safety.

AT NOON, possibly as much as 11 hours after the blaze started, rescue squads, equipped with special mine fire-fighting apparatus, reported little headway in their efforts to reach the 11 trapped men.

There had been no contact with the trapped men. Rescue squads said the dense smoke continued to fill the shaft. Here in this town 40 miles east of Rouyn doctors, clergymen and

6 Gestapo Men Die on Gallows
 PRAGUE, April 24 — (BUP) — Six former Gestapo men who helped to destroy Lidice were hanged in the sunlit courtyard of Pankrac prison today.

HAROLD WIESMANN, former chief of the Kladno Gestapo was the first to die. As the harness was adjusted around his chest, he begged softly for a quick and painless death—then straightened up and shouted "long live Germany!"

Otto Gebel was next. He echoed Wiesmann's words from an adjacent scaffold and was pronounced dead a few seconds later. Then came Thomas Karl Thomsen, Wiesmann's deputy who helped finish off 173 men of Lidice in a blood-stained farmyard.

Rudolf Visek, Walter Forster and Oskar Felkl, Gestapo torture experts, were executed in rapid order on other scaffolds.

NINE OTHER Germans connected with the destruction of Lidice received prison terms totalling 105 years from the Czech people's court. Wiesmann was found guilty of direct responsibility for the deaths of 333 Czechs, partial responsibility for the deaths of others, and sharing in the destruction of the city.

Ruling Expected On Act's Validity
 BY VICTOR MACKIE
 EDMONTON, April 24 — The Supreme Court of Canada is expected to issue its judgment Monday on the constitutionality of the Saskatchewan Farm Security Act. The long-delayed judgment may be one of the most important to be delivered, according to authorities here.

Hearings on the constitutionality of the act were held before the supreme court in October last year. It was referred to the court by the Dominion government after Ottawa had decided against exercising its right of disallowance.

De Gaulle Claims Big Following
 PARIS, April 24 — (BUP) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle said today that "hundreds of thousands" of Frenchmen had joined his new national unity movement which brought him out of political retirement to challenge the administration and constitution of the Fourth Republic.

De Gaulle scoffed at charges in some quarters that he would seek to set himself up as dictator of France through the new "union of French people." Nothing could be further from his intentions, he said.

 WINNIPEG, April 24 — (CP) — The Manitoba legislature last night defeated by a 28-13 vote a motion by M. A. Gray (CCF-Winnipeg) expressing regret the coalition government had failed to provide medical privileges for the aged in its old-age pensions legislation.

At Hands of Jewish Underground
 U.K. Troops in Palestine Face Capture and Death
 JERUSALEM, April 24 — (AP) — British troops patrolling Palestine today faced a threat of systematic capture, "trial" and execution from Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization.

An Irgun secret-radio broadcast yesterday threatened revenge for the deaths of Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barzani, underground fighters. The two, awaiting hanging in Jerusalem prison, killed themselves with explosives Monday night.

The broadcast said each Irgun unit would have a "field court" to try seized British soldiers on such charges as membership in an unlawful criminal organization, illegal entry into Palestine and participation in murderous activities.

It declared no appeal would be granted, and that condemned men would be hanged or shot.

Irgun Zvai Leumi said Feinstein and Barzani had been given explosives in their death cell to "blow themselves and prison officials up on the scaffold," but carried out their suicide beforehand for fear of endangering their spiritual counselor.

SAD RETURN—Mrs. Helen Friedman of Lancaster, Pa., steps off a plane in New York after her personal mission to Palestine to appeal for her condemned brother, Dov Gruener. Her trip was fruitless; Gruener as hanged for terrorist activity.

Royal Family Sails for Home

CAPETOWN, April 24 — (Reuters)—The battleship Vanguard steamed out of Capetown harbor today carrying the Royal Family home to England after their 10,000-mile tour of South Africa.

At a farewell state luncheon two hours before the King had called his visit "almost unique in the history of the British Commonwealth" and said he hoped such tours would be "less unusual in the future."

Queen Elizabeth, the two princesses and he were "overwhelmed" by the presents which South Africa had showered upon them, he added.

At the luncheon Prime Minister Smuts said in a farewell speech that "people of all races and colors have been thrilled" by the royal tour.

Smuts told a press conference afterwards that the royal visit had been "very helpful" and had brought an atmosphere of peace, conciliation and humanity over "a hotch-potch of colors and races."

THE OTHER two bandits snatched the bank keys from Stuart and entered the bank's safety deposit vault, where the boxes were smashed open.

Two of the bandits were still working on the safety deposit boxes when Darcy Hogan, a friend of the Stuaris, called on them about 10:30 p.m. He also was bound and gagged, after which the guard left to join his two companions in their getaway.

The caretakers wife managed to burst her bonds finally, but it was more than three hours after the bandits had first entered and it was nearly 1 a.m. when the alarm was flashed to police.

Peffer, a smiling, flawlesslymany of his business interests at Aklavik, a deal reported to involve more than half a million dollars am uncertain whether to buy out-

Peffer said.

The young Virginia-born busithe north and the power plant at Aklavik.

He feels certain that the gold finds north of Aklavik will bring a new rush to the Aklavik Delta area, nearly 2,000 miles north of Edmonton.

Shortly before Peffer came south the four prospectors chartered a plane at Aklavik to fly supplies back to the Firth River area and exploit their earlier successes farther in the coming summer months.

Peffer admits that great difficulties would face large-scale mining operations such as are carried on at Yellowknife.

THE SHORTNESS of the Arctic summer season, the fact that the gold ore is below layers of glacial ice and rock and the obstacles in the way of transporting mining machinery and supplies to the Arctic regions are just some of the difficulties confronted by prospectors in that area, Peffer pointed out.

However, he is convinced from talking to Phillip Harcourt, one of the four prospectors that a syndicate with sufficient money to develop the find is behind the four discoverers.

The prospectors said that the formation discovered last winter is much the same as at Yellowknife, where a boom has been taking place in the last three years.

Although the possibilities of a "major strike" were not being advertised by the prospectors until they have carried out further development work this summer, they were nevertheless "optimistic" over the outlook.

HE FELT THAT the prospectors were keeping "mum" until they had staked a large area on behalf of the company for which they are working.

Then it seems likely there will be a "large-scale rush of miners into the territory when the word gets around."

Peffer admits it will take "big money" to develop a new gold field so far north but thinks the money will be forthcoming for the job.

Mr. Peffer said he was selling out many of his trading post interests because prices of long-haired fur is slumping badly.

MAIN REASON for this is the dumping by Soviet Russia of large quantities of fox on the U.S. and Canadian markets at very low prices.

"Joe Stalin has entered the fur business in a big way and the Arctic Canadian traders are hit pretty hard. Prices of white, black and silver fox furs have dropped to new lows. The Russians are selling through government cartels and can sell very cheaply," he stated.

Mink and rat prices are still good and trappers and traders in the Canadian north are concentrating on these furs now.

Report CCF May Expel Two Calgary Aldermen

CALGARY, April 24.—(CP)—Alderman P. N. R. Morrison and Ald. D. F. McIntosh, of Calgary, may be expelled from the CCF party provincial organization on grounds of non-co-operation and for conduct at a meeting held in Calgary, Jan. 15.

POSSIBILITIES of the two aldermen organizing a Labor party in the province are foreseen should the expulsion go through and split the CCF. It is also rumored that the Social Credit government may take advantage of the situation to call a provincial election this summer.

Ernest Cook, Leduc, provincial CCF president said this morning that the two men were being summoned to a meeting of the provincial board to discuss the "Calgary situation."

"There has been considerable difference of opinion in Calgary and the situation has not improved. I am not prepared to say that these men definitely will be expelled from the party but we want to discuss the whole Calgary problem."

"THE CALGARY situation" is a rift in the local CCF organization which has resulted in the development of two separate groups, one of which the "CCF Action Club," is headed by Morrison and the other the Calgary CCF club No. 1, which apparently is supported by the provincial executive.

The provincial board met in Edmonton recently and decided to lay the charges against Morrison and McIntosh. Possibility that the expulsion might take the form of a suspension for a period has been suggested, but local sources agree that it would still amount to expelling the two from the party.

Commenting on the situation, J.
E. Cook, provincial president, issued the following statement:

IN VIEW of the press statements made by Mr. Morrison and Mr.
McIntosh and the wide publicity given them, we wish to make the following statement on behalf of our provincial board.

The provincial board, which by constitution is the governing body of the Alberta CCF and which consists of a democratically elected representative from each federal constituency, together with the table officers, unanimously agreed at its meeting held in Edmonton on April 12 that it had not received the cooperation to which it was entitled in its efforts to restore harmony within the Calgary section of our membership.

IN VIEW of this it was further agreed by the board that Mr. Morrison and Mr. McIntosh should be asked to appear before a special meeting of the board to be held at Edmonton on May 31 to defend their position.

As a majority decision of the provincial board as a whole, will decide the immediate outcome of this hearing, we or any other officials of the movement can make no further official statement or comment until this decision is democratically reached on May 31. It would appear however from the press statements that Mr. Morrison and Mr.
McIntosh anticipate drastic action by the board.

and further north is the greatest in years, he said.

Peffer's career in Canada's northland has a Horatio-Alger flavor.

Born in Virginia he went with his father to Peace River in 1920, where his parents operated a small store. He went to school in Grande Prairie.

"WE HAD JUST a few dollars and gradually built up a small trading stock," he said.

In 1924 the family went to Fort Nelson, still in the trading business, moving still further north to Fort Simpson in 1929.

A year or so later Stan went to Aklavik to open another trading post. Since that time he has made Aklavik practically a one-man town as far as business is concerned, owning a sawmill, a hotel a moving picture show and a store.

The north has been transformed since Peffer went to Aklavik, with airplane and radio being the chief agents of change he said.

LONDON, April 24.—(CP)—The liner Maritania, carrying 400 guests including business men and civic dignitaries long overdue at their desks, waited for the fourth successive day today for weather to permit her to dock at Liverpool.

Mine Fire

relatives gathered around the mine workings awaiting the latest word of the rescue efforts.

IT WAS REPORTED more masks were needed for the rescue workers and a telephoned request went to Kirkland Lake, Ont., for another rescue squad. First rescuers came from Noranda mine, followed by squads from Lamaque and Sigma mines.

Father Gerard Kinlough, who had been on the scene since 3 a.m., said he was hopeful the trapped men had been able to escape from the smoke to a lower mine level.

As near as could be learned on the surface the smouldering fire was thought to be burning timbers on the 10th level.

M. A. Thomson, secretary-treasurer of the mines, said at Montreal the fire apparently started in the lunch room of the 10th level of No. 4 shaft, which has an incline depth of 2,184 feet.

HE SAID from information he received he believed the fire was started by a dropped cigarette stub, probably sometime after midnight.

Tax Cuts

cket—and of the urgent need to give a substantial measure of relief to this group.

THIS COULDN'T be done, contend the Liberal rank and file who have been hammering away at Mr.
Abbott ever since the session started for tax relief, by a straight ten per cent cut across the board.

On the basis of Mr. Abbott's own suggestion of special relief for taxpayers on straight salaries, pensions and other forms of "fixed" income, the ten per cent cut would be "unfair."

Best information the Liberal members have—and after all, being government supporters they are close to cabinet sources—is that the only form of a straight across the board cut will be the raising of exemptions, from $750 to $1,000 for single persons and from $1,500 to $1,800 for married. This, according to inter-departmental correspondence previously disclosed would lop some $50,000 from the tax roll.

GIVEN THAT straight cut, further reductions—in the tax rates—would be on a graduated basis.

School Areas

a number of people comparable to that of the cities, those school boards would be forced to assume a sense of responsibility for the future of education.

The number of teachers employed by these country divisions ranges from 30 to 120, Mr. Ansley said, with an average teacher employment of 55.

THERE WERE 235 public bodies now hiring these teachers, which indicated too wide a division of responsibility.

"IF THE HIRING of teachers were in the hands of 12 or 15 elected bodies, these groups would have to look into all aspects of the situation. They would be forced to pay attention to the requirements for teachers in the future," he said.

Other advantages of the adoption of the new enlargement would be better supervision. Better edu-

Criticize Lumber For Big Congress

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 24.—Under the caption "How many homes would this lumber pile roof and floor," the Toronto Telegram on Wednesday published a four-column picture of a huge pile of lumber, part of hundreds of thousands of feet going into what the newspaper describes as a "stupendous" open-air cathedral in Lansdowne Park, Ottawa. According to the Toronto Telegram correspondent, this temporary structure is the chief feature of Archbishop Alexander Vachon's plans for the Roman Catholic Marian Congress in Ottawa June 1 to 22 inclusive.

THE TELEGRAM story alleges a sharp difference of opinion between Irish and French Catholics in Ottawa over alleged untimeliness of the celebration. Archbishop Vachon conceived the plan for a monster mass, "prayer for a lasting peace" to mark the 100th anniversary of the Ottawa diocese.

Estimates vary of the number of people who will attend from all over Canada and many from the United States and other countries.
The figure is put at anywhere between 75,000 and 200,000. Eight cardinals will attend, including Cardinal McGuigan, Toronto; Spellman, New York; Strick, Chicago; Mooney, Detroit; Griffin, United Kingdom and Cardinals also from Brazil, Cuba and France.

Commenting on overcrowding in Ottawa, Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction, remarked in the house that "it is going to test our ingenuity to the utmost to look after even our present shelter needs."

To Bring Down Budget Tuesday

OTTAWA, April 24.—(CP)— Finance Minister Abbott announceed today in the Commons he planned to present the budget at 5 p.m.
est. (6 p.m. mst) next Tuesday, April 29.

Mr. Abbott said he understood acting Prime Minister St. Laurent had consulted with other party leaders and it appeared likely the emergency control legislation currently before the house would be disposed of late this week or early next week.

This being the case, he said, he intended to bring down the budget next Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Builders' Association, Wednesday afternoon.

Network "Changes Policy"

NBC Decides to Back Down And Take Comedians' Jibes

HOLLYWOOD, April 24—(AP)—Radio's funny men last night were assured by the National Broadcasting Company that they could poke fun at the NBC without being cut off the air but Columbia Broadcasting System deleted a gag which mentioned fading of a part of Fred Allen's program Sunday.

THE RADIO spoofing started when Allen was cut off the air for a few seconds because he gagged that an NBC vice-president was in charge of collecting overtime on radio programs and when he got two weeks' worth, he took a vacation. Tuesday night NBC cut off comments by Red Skelton and Bob Hope which referred to L'Affaire Allen.

Last night, NBC said it would not interfere further and Dennis Day, the Irish tenor, got away with this libe on his show:

Day's girl friend asked what he was doing.
"I'm listening to the radio."
"But I don't hear anything."
"I know, I'm listening to Fred Allen."

BUT JACK CARSON, who planned this gag over CBS, got orders to delete it 10 minutes before he went on the air:

Carson: "According to the papers, Fred Allen said a radio vice-president saved up seconds till he had two weeks, then went on vacation."

His comedy teammate Tugwell (Dave Willock): "Gee, Uncle Jack, we're still on the air. How come we weren't cut off?"

Carson: "Because this is CBS, the Columbia Broadcasting System."

CBS gave no explanation for the deletion.
"THIS IS not a formal statement," the NBC spokesman said. "It's simply a change of policy."
The company, laughing off its display of sensitivity, further said Allen was being offered an honorary vice-presidency of the network and that offers of West Coast honorary vice-presidencies would be made to Hope and Skelton.

Later Dennis Day, the Irish tenor, airwaved a slight jibe at the broadcasting company and was not cut off.

The action came as virtually every comedian in town was preparing to contest the issue, and Red Skelton, who chattered into a dead microphone for 12 seconds Tuesday night because he referred to the Allen matter, commented:

"THERE ARE always other networks."

He and Bob Hope were cut off the air by NBC engineers for brief periods when they referred to the now celebrated knob-twisting Sunday which silenced Allen on the air for 25 seconds while he panned a mythical vice-president of the network.

NBC, which has 14 vice-presidents—none of them, as Allen inferred, in charge of saving the moments programs run overtime—at first maintained a dignified silence.

Adjust Tariffs Fair Sideshows

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 24—Assurances have been given the joint Western-Eastern exhibition delegation by Hon. J. A. M. Cunn, minister of national revenue, that tariffs on sideshows and rides will be levied this year on a 30-day basis instead of a calendar month basis. The tariff is levied against midways brought in from the United States to operate with agricultural fairs.

"THE DELEGATION is quite satisfied with those assurances and believe we have accomplished what we came down here for," F. C. McLennan, manager of the Brandon exhibition, said Wednesday.

Steve MacEachern, manager of the Saskatoon Exhibition, spent Wednesday checking over the Ottawa exhibition grounds and inspected the Connaught racing park. Eastern representations of the delegation were H. H. McElroy, manager of the Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, and H. Jackson, of the London Exhibition.

THE REVISION in the system of imposing tariffs was sought because on a calendar month basis a show might operate three weeks in one month and only one week in another month, but he assessed for two months' operations. The western circuit this year will open at Brandon on June 30 and end in Regina on August 2. On the calendar month basis the Western Canada Association of Exhibitions would have been assessed for three months operations.

WITH DR. McCANN'S assurances, however, the association's assessments on a 30-day basis will mean paying tariffs for only two months, Mr. McLennan pointed out.

Although there are approximately 103,000,000 Germans in the world, only about 63,000,000 live in Germany normally.

County Court To Get Eyeful Of Strip-Tease

VANCOUVER, April 24—(CP)—Dorothy Fitzsimmons, a curvaceous redhead from the "Lucky Club" at Los Angeles, Calif., will explain the intricacies of disrobing to music in county court here next Friday.

SHE WILL TAKE the witness stand for the defence in the case of Hymie Singer, former manager of the State theatre in Vancouver, who is charged with sponsoring an indecent performance.

The court yesterday refused an application by Singer's counsel that the charge be dropped and ordered the hearing to resume Friday.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, whose panties, brassiere and G-string formed part of the trial's opening, was brought from Los Angeles especially for the hearing. She took part in one of three strip-tease acts which resulted in the charge being laid.

Bread Crisis

PARIS, April 24 (Reuters)—France is on the verge of a bread crisis and a sharp cut in the bread ration is expected shortly. Bread queues such as have not been seen in France since immediately after the liberation formed outside bakeries in big towns.

Boost in Price Of Butter Near

OTTAWA, April 24—(CP)—Butter may come out from under the retail ceiling of from 44 to 46 cents a pound should the subsidy on butter be removed April 30, it was learned last night in informal quarters here.

THIS SHAPED up as one course that could follow removal of the 8½ cents a pound subsidy on butter, equal to about 10 cents a pound on butter, and which the government has indicated will be abolished at the end of this month.

Another possibility, and thought most likely, is that a retail price increase will be allowed, equal to the amount of the subsidy or perhaps more.

Evidence that action is imminent on the butter price front comes with disclosure that the prices board has warned all holders of butter stocks to be prepared for an inventory. This inventory would prevent holders of butter on which the subsidy has been paid from selling it at any increased price that might be allowed following removal of the subsidy.

Canadians 'Spanked' For Empire Dealings

By Stuart Underhill

LONDON, April 24—(CP)—H. V. Hodson, writer on Commonwealth affairs, said yesterday that excessive dominion nationalism is weakening the British Empire. He also outlined a plan for "a new kind of Empire association."

IN AN ADDRESS to the Royal Empire Society, Hodson described the type of Empire association he envisioned as being a "highly complex fabric of institutions, arrangements and contracts" which "will admit and embrace nationalism but will transcend it until in the end it is found to have passed into history as a prime mover of current politics."

Canada came in for a double dose of criticism from Hodson. As a country, he said, Canada feels that "if she is not 100 per cent Canada, she is, she feels, merely an appendage (dependency) of the United States."

TO ALL EVIDENCE, he said, Prime Minister Mackenzie King was the "principal accessory" when the Dominion governments "or at least some of them," acted so "that the Imperial conference

More But Dearer

Canadians are to get more lumber, but they will have to pay more for it. Millmen are to have their export quotas cut down. But they will be allowed to hoist prices 15 to 20 per cent, in order to put domestic prices in line with prices in the United States.

The aim, it is stated officially, is to speed up house-building in Canada. It can only be hoped this will be the result. There is no certainty about it. Scarcity of lumber has certainly been one of the serious hindrances to building. But high prices have been another barrier. How the combination of larger supplies at still higher prices will work out is anybody's guess.

If it is necessary to equalize domestic and export revenue for the millmen, a better plan would be to subsidize them to the amount of the 15 to 20 cent spread, and hold retail prices down to their former levels. That would provide builders the stimulus of larger supplies, without off-setting this by increased costs.

Why it should be necessary to equalize what the manufacturers get for lumber by either method is not clear. But as a means of encouraging the building of houses, the subsidy arrangement would be by all odds better than allowing them to raise prices against the man who wants to build.

The "National" Finances

Last year the National Railways earned $33 millions less than in 1945. But the expenses of operating the system were $2 millions more. The result was a deficit of $8 millions, compared with a surplus of $24 millions at the end of the preceding year. All these amounts are in round figures.

The two main factors in cutting down earnings was a decline in passenger traffic and in the movement of grain. Because fewer people traveled passenger revenue was down $17 millions. Revenue from grain haulage slumped $14 millions. General freight traffic showed a drop of only $2 millions, while mail and express business brought in slightly more than in 1945.

The worse feature of the annual report is that the returns for 1947 do not promise to be better, rather the contrary. Wage increases and higher costs of materials which came into effect during 1946 will apply throughout the whole of this year. Barring a substantial increase in revenue from some source, the outlook is for a heavier deficit for 1947.

President R. C. Vaughan points out that the wartime trend of the costs of operation was obscured while traffic and revenues were at the peak. This is now becoming apparent, as the return to peacetime conditions discloses the cumulative effect of this trend. With revenues sharply reduced, the pre-war relations between earnings and outgo have been changed. The big earnings days have gone. But expenses are not going down.

This situation is one that will have to be dealt with, one way or another, for it threatens to be permanent. What it amounts to is that the National must get more revenue; or parliament must—as it has done in several past years—meet annual deficits out of the public funds as part of the cost of keeping the country a going concern.

What's the Matter With It?

A suggestion was made the other day in the House of Commons that a committee of non-members and non-maritimers be appointed to investigate the coal mining industry—or invade—in the maritime provinces. Curiously, Mr. Clarence Gillis, MP for South Cape Breton, who has been acting as parliamentary publicity-man for the tie-up, objected to the proposal. An investigation, he said, would do no good.

But whether or not an inquiry would do good as seen from Mr. Gillis' point of view, the proposal is very much in order. What is the matter with the coal mining business in that area anyway? This is what people all across Canada would like to know, and have a right to know. They have been paying subsidies in the amount of millions of dollars to keep the industry going—and it is now dead. Mr. Gillis wants them to go on paying subsidies and thus bring it to life again. Just why can't the industry keep going under its own steam?

The miners say the coal operators have been pocketing the subsidies and paying them starvation wages. The operators say the miners have been only getting out a ton and a half per day per man, whereas they used to get out two and a half tons per day. Whichever claim is right, the works are out of production, seem likely to stay out of production indefinitely, the economy of the maritimes is out of joint, relief lines and soup kitchens are in prospect, and a resumption of subsidy-payments is being asked for.

What is the root cause of the deadlock, and of the seemingly chronic invalidism of the industry? Are the coal seams running out? Do the mines need machinery? Are the operators greedy? Are the miners demanding high pay for less work? These are questions to which the taxpayers all across the Dominion are entitled to have plain and impartial answers, since they are being told they should subsidize the industry back into life.

The Innocent Abroad

Mr. Henry Wallace has wound up his tour of Europe preaching hostility toward the foreign policy of his country. At Paris he said strong forces are attempting to divide the world and weaken the United Nations organization. If these allegedly disruptive "forces" are national in character they can only be Russia and the United States.

Yet Mr. Wallace went on to urge that the International Bank should lend Russia $15,000,000,000 with which to repair its battered economy. The logic of thus proposing that the United Nations build up the strength of a country which is said to be trying to destroy it is as peculiar as the role the author is playing. This is something more than a proposal of appeasement. It is a recipe for subsidizing sabotage, if the "strong forces" phrase means anything.

That the wandering prophet has gained some support is evident. He has a cable from nineteen artists, writers and philosophers in Argentina, saying they approve of his anti-American activities and sentiments. They would. Argentina is that kind of a country. But why only nineteen? There must be many more Nazi, Fascist and Japanese agents and sympathizers still in Peron's sanctuary. But perhaps there were only nineteen who could sign the cable without disclosing their origin and political affiliations.

What reaction he has aroused in Europe is not indicated. That should be fertile ground in which to sow seed of disorder. The reaction at home is fairly plain. Henry is not being taken seriously, save in isolationist quarters. The vote in the Senate on the proposal to bolster democracy in Greece and Turkey is significant. Nor has President Truman told General Marshall to shift ground at Moscow. It is where he is best known that Mr. Wallace is getting least attention. And he is making some strange friends abroad, if the Argentine cable is any sign.

Looking Backward

One of the first public works this part of Alberta requires at the hands of the federal government is a telegraph line from Edmonton to Athabasca Landing. The Landing is the starting point by boat for the Mackenzie with its great lakes and tributaries giving water transport throughout a greater territory than Manitoba, Assiniboia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Edmonton is the depot for trade and the starting point for travellers and is ninety miles distant from the Landing.

No doubt the present session of parliament will produce the usual crop of Northwest railway charters, but unfortunately this does not indicate that the Northwest is any nearer increased railway communication. If the charters already granted had been worked upon there would have been no need of having any more for years to come. Already the country is gridironed with paper railways, but the old-fashioned cart or bull team is still the main dependence of a large proportion of the people. The district of Alberta is well supplied with these paper roads and it is to be hoped they will be succeeded by something for more useful at an early date. A charter granted to a paper company is just so much of an obstacle to the building of a real railway.

Delhi Shames the West

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

The Moscow meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers ends in failure. But anyone not afflicted by white man's one-eyed-outlook could find developments quite as encouraging as the failure at Moscow was discouraging. While the representatives of the north-western part of this dizzy globe were getting nowhere at Moscow, leaders of the long-over-shadowed half of the world were scoring a great success at Delhi, India.

THE PRESS of the western world almost completely overlooked the first all-Asian conference, which had just finished its work at New Delhi. But we can judge the nature of this work when we note Pandit Nehru's words: "We have arrived at the end of this conference, but only the beginning of our work."

The conference set up a permanent Asian Relations Organization. It set 1949 for the next meeting in China. It set forth definite objectives—and immediately set about realizing them.

NO "WORLD" BODY meeting at Geneva, San Francisco, New York or London has ever attracted as many key leaders as did this gathering at New Delhi.

Every country in Asia, without exception, was represented. The free countries were there as well as those still fighting for freedom, like the Viet Namese.

The new victorious premier of the Indonesian Republic was present in person. All the Arab states were represented—so was Egypt, although my map shows all but a tiny sliver of that country in Africa, not Asia. Even the Palestinian Jews were welcomed—and, with the Arabs, given a chance to state their case—which is more than they have been permitted so far at the United Nations. Arabs and Jews shook hands amid great applause.

WHEN I LOOK at the mighty stirrings of the long-sleeping southern giants. I think of bantam roosters fighting in the road.

For all the western powers put together are like bantam roosters compared with the approaching power of the yellow, brown and black parts of the world. Unless the bantams step lively they will find themselves run over by something which will flatten them like a steam roller.

GANDHI TOLD the conference "wisdom has always moved from east to west." He pointed out that Zoroaster, Buddha, Moses, Jesus and Mohammed were all Asians. I notice that this conference deliberately chose the adjective "Asian," not "Asiatic."

"Christianity became disfigured when it went west," said Gandhi. "You will achieve complete conquest of the west—not by vengeance because you have been exploited, but through understanding. The West is today pining for wisdom. It is despairing of the multiplication of the atom bombs because atom bombs mean utter destruction, not only of the West but of all the world, as if the prophecy of the Bible is going to be fulfilled. . . . It is up to you to tell the world of its wickedness and sin."

THE INDOONESIAN premier, Dr. Sutan Sharier, took first steps for a trade agreement with India.

There are over 8000 tons of sugar piled up in Indonesia—blocked by the Dutch navy during the deadlock with the Indonesians. This is only one of the items soon due to offset world shortages.

But Nehru stressed "others are realizing that Asia is not merely a market to be exploited, but that Asia consists of human beings with dignity, who are going to have a great future. . . . The centre of events is shifting from Europe to America and Asia."

The president of the whole conference was a woman, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu. Thus, at the UN, India leads the world in giving women a place of honor and equal influence.

Communist have anything to fear from returning, and ironically asks, "How many who talk of Communism can say what it is?"

They can, of course, if they have been given an opportunity to read recent statements of President Truman and other American officials about conditions in Greece, Yugoslavia and Poland. And they must wonder whether all the Western world is mad, trying to stop Communism in one place and swell its ranks in others.

THE UNITED STATES, Latin America, and the British Commonwealth have no need of IRO, UN or Russia to solve the DP problem. ## Each an Ambassador

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

The British Army has always been famed for its strict discipline. Among Canadians and Americans there has been a tendency for us to consider this type of discipline not only unnecessary but a little ridiculous. In fact on this continent we have been inclined to boast of the unwillingness of our people to accept such discipline and to be a little proud—perhaps of our refusal to accept "regimentation."

Actually during the war there was a very high standard of discipline among Canadian troops, and undisciplined units and individuals were the rare exception rather than the rule. And once we got into battle we found that lax discipline produced unnecessary casualties. The Americans had a similar experience. We found that it was the best disciplined troops which had the most successful battle records.

Once the war was over and the task of occupying the defeated countries began, the question of discipline became of even more obvious importance. Today the Americans are being shocked by reports of the behavior of some of their green and inexperienced troops stationed on foreign soil. One does not hear, at least not with the same frequency, the same complaints about British troops.

THE REASON for this is that the British, with their world-wide and Empire military commitments, learned long ago that discipline is a first essential among occupation troops.

I remember a colonel under whom I served for a while in England, and who had served with British forces all over the world for nearly forty years telling me about his early experiences. "When I went out to join my unit in India as a subaltern my superiors impressed upon me the important position I held. I was never allowed to forget that my behavior must always be above reproach because not only did I represent my own regiment, not only did I represent the British Army and the Empire, but to the people of India I represented the white man. They would judge all white men by the way I conducted myself. This sense of heavy responsibility made my task much easier."

Today the Americans are discovering, as we Canadians discovered to a lesser degree, that failure to imbue all ranks with this sense of responsibility is a grave mistake. It is necessary to offset the other factors which go to affect the behavior of men in uniform. It is a strange thing that a person will do things in a strange place he would never dream of doing at home. And once men get into uniform they tend to lose all sense of personal identity with the result that they are often inclined to behave in a manner they would never think of in civilian clothes—mostly the white man. It is a strange thing that a person will do things in a strange place he would never dream of doing at home. And once men get into uniform they tend to lose all sense of personal identity with the result that they are often inclined to behave in a manner they would never think of in civilian clothes—mostly the white man. And once men get into uniform they tend to lose all sense of personal identity with the result that they are often inclined to behave in a manner they would never think of in civilian clothes—mostly the white man.

IN THE YEARS ahead Canadian troops will probably form the nucleus of the international security force and as such will be stationed in various parts of the world. It is to be hoped, because of the opportunity to do us good or harm which they will have, that their training will include both discipline and imbuing them with their responsibilities as ambassadors of their country.

Editor, Bulletin:—One would think that the order of the day should be peace on earth to all men and not war on earth for the destruction of all men. It would seem that the next world war is based on Soviet expansion. The following figures will prove that Soviet expansion is a very real propaganda. Territorial losses of the Soviet Union: Western Byelorussia and Ukraine, minus East Galicia, which was part of Russia, 50,000 square miles; Russian Poland, 50,000; Lithuania, 24,000; Latvia, 20,000; Estonia, 18,000; Bessarabia 18,000; Finland 132,000; Petsamo (ceded to Finland in 1920), 4,000; Gotland, awarded to Sweden, 1,000; Kars and Ardahan, ceded to Turkey, 12,000.

These figures are from the Encyclopedia Britannica. They total 329,000 square miles. So, even using Reston's figures as "expansionism," they show a net loss of 72,243 square miles of Soviet territory compared with Russia of 1914. Much could be said of British and American "expansionism" since the war.

Edmonton. R. H. BIRKS MUSICAL AWARDS

Editor, Bulletin—I have listened to the Birks musical awards programs with a great deal of pleasure, especially the one held in the Garneau theatre on Sunday, April 13, and congratulate the contestants on their splendid performance. When the contest first started, it was announced that it was put on to enable young students to continue their musical studies. I was therefore very disappointed to note that only one piano student in the real sense of the word, reached the semi-finals, the others all having acquired their A.T.C.M. certificates.

I have heard this discussed by a number of people, and the general opinion is that it is very unfair to expect a student of 16 or 17 years of age to compete with a teacher some years older, who has from 5 to 25 pupils, consequently she is at the piano most of the day, whereas the student is only able to practice one or possibly two hours a day.

I would like to suggest that another year there be two grand awards. One for teachers and one for students as there were some very good pianists among the younger contestants.

NOT CHISELLING

Editor, Bulletin—If a person makes a mistake or omits the 16% tax reduction in figuring his income tax he will not lose as the government will return the overpayment. However there are other overpayments that aren't recognized as such.

For instance: The rate on a $1400 income for married without dependents is $65. If the taxable income exceeds this by 25 cents he has the choice of paying the $1410 rate which is $68 or making a gift to His Majesty of the 25 cents which reduces his taxable income to $1400. See page 3 of form T1 Special. The taxpayer must send the gift before May 1, 1947. According to the law of averages two out of every ten taxpayers should profit by making a gift.

The same applies less frequently to family allowance recovery. An employee with a $1405.21 income received $278 family allowance. A gift of $5.21 to the government reduced his income to $1400 and saved the 10% family allowance recovery of $27

Red Deer Fastball Gets New Site

RED DEER, April 24.—Holding their annual meeting Wednesday night, the Red Deer Men's Fastball League decided that the 1947 league will affiliate with the Red Deer Amateur Athletic Association. E. F. Lesier, president of the league, outlined what the association proposed to offer fastballs this season. A site for a ball park has been secured from the city, east of the arena and will be cleared and made into a diamond with bleachers and fencing. The association will maintain the park, hold a school for umpires, provide officials during the season, and will also back the league representative in the provincial fastball play-offs. Following a full discussion the meeting decided to have all players in the league become members of the A.A.A.

Wilton Mayberry was elected chairman of the fastball committee and as such will be a member of the executive of the Athletic Association.

The Canadian Legion and the 78th Battery are definite entries in the league, with North Red Deer a likely entry. Saturday, May 10, was set as the deadline for taking league entries.

Last year there were eight teams in the city league but that did not work very well as the teams were not well-balanced. This summer it is hoped to have the teams even and there will probably be only four or five entries so that the class of ball should be better.

Arrangements concerning division of gate receipts will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Athletic Association to be held in the City Hall on Friday evening. Representatives of the Red Deer Ladies' Fast Ball League will also attend this meeting to discuss their position with the Association.

The invisible rays of the sun are the most deadly germ-killers known, according to scientists.

Sons of Norway Lodge Celebrates at Camrose

CAMROSE, April 24.—Terje Kiken Sons of Norway Lodge No. 120 at Camrose, celebrated its 20th anniversary last Sunday, with a banquet held in the Hotel Alice. B. Rogness, president of the Camrose branch, presided. Brief talks were given by several charter members, old-timers and special guests.

THE CAMROSE male quartet presented a program of appropriate selections. Guests numbered approximately 100 and included representatives from the Edmonton and Wetaskiwin lodges.

The body of Andrew Olson, elderly bachelor farmer, was found in his home by a neighbor, Mrs. Joe Eherot, who was taking his mail to him. RCMP and Coroner E. K. ## Parade of Home Runs Continues in Majors

By Steve Robertson
NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—The home-run parade continued in the major leagues yesterday as National Leaguers increased their season output to 48—just double last year's total over the same period—and American Leaguers boosted their total to 26, one less than their comparable 1946 output.

There was a gilt-edged pitching performance, too, by Allie Reynolds of New York Yankees who set the American League champion Boston Red Sox down with two hits in his home debut.

BIG RUDY YORK clouted a double and a single in late innings to spoil Reynolds' effort but the Yankees coasted home to a 3-0 victory with catcher Aaron Robinson driving home two of the runs.

Chicago White Sox dropped their first game of the season 7-4 as Detroit Tigers equalled a league record when Roy Cullenbine, Dick Wakefield and Hoot Evers connected for five eighth-inning homers. Eddie Lake and Cullenbine had blasted earlier four-baggers.

CLEVELAND INDIANS blasted St. Louis Browns 10-4 and Washington Senators edged Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 in other American League games.

The senior circuit saw the continued humiliation of the once-proud St. Louis Cardinals, now in the league cellar. The Cards did a little hitting yesterday, but not enough to match the powerful Pittsburgh Pirates who downed them 8-5. A grand-slam homer by Billy Cox and a two-run circuit clout by Ed Basinski gave the Bucs their win.

A TWO-RUN ERROR by Philadelphia shortstop Emil Verban and a two-run single by Carl Furillo were all Brooklyn Dodgers needed to beat Pittsburgh 5-2. Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati Reds 4-3 as the teams committed seven errors between them and Boston Braves clouted their way to a 3-1 decision over New York Giants.

Two new council members were elected last night to bring the total to seven. The two members are Dr. Kurt Fuchs and Angus Parks. Others are President Green, George Wilce, secretary, Bill McLennan, vice-president, Albert Orchin and Earl Smith.

FIVE SENIOR soccer clubs—North Side Legion, Army, Navy and Airforce Vets, RCAF, South Side Legion and Oliver Pats—were well represented and members of the Alberta association also attended.

Registration forms for players were handed out to club representatives. Seven applications from referees were received.

The season will open on May 24 with a game in the Vets-Martin trophy competition, opponents to be named later.

Vancouver Goes Ahead Windsor In Cage Series

VANCOUVER, April 24.—(CP)—Sparked by Ole Bakken's hefty 24 points, Vancouver Merallomas last night defeated Windsor Assumption College 76-49 to go one up in the best-of-five series for the Dominion basketball championship.

Merallomas got away to a slow start, just managing a 14-11 quarter lead. They built it up to 33-24 at the half and stretched it to 20 points, 54-34 at the three-quarter mark.

BESIDES BAKKEN, Jack Pomfret slipped an even 20 points through the basket for Vancouver. Freddy Thomas, touted as the best man on the Windsor Club, led the Collegians with nine points before his banishment on fouls in the third quarter. Ado Horai and Hank Lally were runners-up with eight points apiece.

Vancouver appeared to be inspired to great basketball by the fact that they were missing both Sandy Robertson and Ron Weber, first string guards. Robertson was playing with Vancouver Caplanos of the Western International Basketball League last night, while Weber was excused from playing because of exams at the University of British Columbia where he is in his graduating year.

WINDSOR—Thomas (9), Coulthard (7), Rora (5), Lally (5), O'Hara (5), Horoki (5), Campbell (3), Kohnman (3). Total—42.

VANCOUVER—Pomfret (20), Bardsley (13), Bakken (24), Henderson (8), Wynne (12), Burwell (14), total—76. Officials—Len Leach, Vancouver, Lou Tiger, Montreal.

Ted Still Has Shift Trouble
NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—Ted Williams ogles the 296-foot right field marker in Yankee Stadium and forgets all his resolutions about hitting to left. He still is having shift trouble.

"See that ball hit at Starnweiss," he remarked, "robbed of a hit for sure. Guess I'll have to hit to left again tonight."

"I have a theory about that hitting to left, though. All right when I'm just looking for a hit, sure I'll hit to left. But when it's late in the game with men on bases and a homer can win the ball game, I'm shooting at that 296-foot sign out there."

SO FAR WILLIAMS has looked at a different variation of the "Boudreau shift" from each eastern team. For instance Connie Mack of the A's had his third baseman, Ted Majeski, playing shortstop with shortstop Eddie Joost on second and the others all pulled around to right.

So far Williams has only two hits to left field, though. He has been doing well, in 20 times at bat Williams has banged out eight hits for an even .400. Three homers, one double and eight runs batted in are credited to him and he has drawn seven walks.

Baseball Workouts Resuming Tonight

Senior baseball workouts will resume at Renfrew Park at 6 o'clock tonight and will continue nightly at that time until opening day, with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays when the practice school will commence at 2:30 p.m.

Boxing Classes

Changes have been made in the boxing school classes being conducted at the USO building, effective Saturday, April 26 and are as follows:

Junior and senior classes will be held jointly from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Classes are free to all boys and adults who wish to attend.

The Pasture treatment for rabies is more than 50 years old.

Mazurenko Upsets Desjardins

Jack Berry squared accounts with Johnny Kos last night in as gory a slugging match as Edmonton fans have witnessed in many a moon, and when it was all over both the victor and the onlookers had a great deal of respect for the game blows were cleaner than Demers', but it was a close fight all the way.

Ralph Goddard proved an aggressive, hard-punching battler. He kept boring in and at the end of the three-round affair Sorenson was completely ticked off. Sorenson put up a game fight for two rounds.

ONLY ONE BOUT on the program which was staged at the Alberta Avenue Sports Pavilion, failed to go as the scheduled distance. Hee Pillon, the Cornwall mauler, stopped Danny Roberts of Vegreville after two minutes of fighting in the second round.

George Mazurenko, sharp-punching Edmonton youngster, who holds the Alberta lightweight championship, scored the only major upset, defeating highly-rated Wilf Desjardins in the most scientific contest of the night. George gave a masterful display of dodging Wilf's dynamite-laden fists and scoring himself with whip-like and rights to the body and head.

In the other matches Roy Wouters of Montreal dethroned Louis Demers in a lively hit-and-miss contest and Ralph Goddard packed a little too much steam in his punches for Jack Sorenson to take the decision handily.

THE FEATURE bout lived up to expectations. Berry, who dropped a decision to Kos three months ago, was in command from the start and sent the Calgarian to the canvas for a count of nine in the ninth round with a solid right to the chin. Although badly beaten, the southerner kept boring in with dangerous looping lefts and rights.

Berry outgeneralized Johnny all the way. He made the Calgarian miss with his haymakers and then stepped in with ripping uppercuts, or right crosses to the button. He staggered Kos on several occasions, but game Johnny revived quickly and came tearing back like a wild bull. The fighting became so intense in the early mixing that when Jack slipped to the canvas Johnny took a swing at him when he was down.

IN THE EIGHTH round, particularly, Berry landed nearly a dozen rights to Kos' head, but the black-thatched southerner kept coming in for more and was still swinging at the bell.

Johnny walked into a terrific right to the chin in the ninth and the "lights" went out momentarily, but he staggered to his feet at the count of nine. Two more blows to the same spot rocked him again, but he weathered the storm. Berry also had a wide margin in the tenth, but when the final gong sounded Kos was still on his feet—a badly battered gory mess.

Mazurenko fought like a seasoned veteran against his more experienced opponent. He boxed the rugged, hard-hitting Desjardins for six rounds and then opened up in the seventh with a whirlwind attack that momentarily dazed the Winnipegger. He caught Wilf flush on the jaw with a blistering two-fisted attack and then kept his left in Desjardins' face in the eighth. It was a clear-cut decision.

HEC FILLION showed marked improvement over his last performance. His blows were sharp and well-timed and after shading Roberts in the opening session, floored him for counts of eight and nine in the second before the referee awarded the technical knockout.

Leather flew thick and fast in the Wouters-Demers battle. Both landed a lot of wild, harmless punches, but Wouters had a decided edge in the scoring column. His

Player Replacements Practice Is Criticized

By Jim McCurdy
VANCOUVER, April 24.—(CP)—Repercussions of the western Allan Cup play-offs still echo on the pages of daily newspapers. Don (Trail Times) Fleming takes the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to task for action they took on player replacements for both Winnipeg and Calgary in the final series.

He cited player replacements for the western finalists, and then reported on action taken by the CAHA in reply to a request from the Moncton Hawks, eastern semi-finalists, for aid after a bruising series with the Glace Bay Miners for the Maritime championship.

HE QUOTED FROM a column in a Moncton paper: "When several of the Moncton Hawks were battered... it was a matter of thumbs down from CAHA officials. When feelers were sent out in regard to the possibility of bolstering Hawks' lineup, it was 'too late' in the season for such a request to be granted. It appears to be a question of pressure... and from whence requests are made whether or not, favors are granted by the CAHA."

Montreal Qualifies For Allan Cup Final

Royals Make It Three Straight Over Hamilton

TORONTO, April 24 (CP)—Montreal Royals, champions of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, last night won the eastern Canada senior hockey title by defeating Hamilton Tigers 5-1 in the third game of the best-of-five series. Royals won in three straight to qualify for the Allan Cup final against Calgary Stampede.

The Allan Cup final will open here Saturday night. The veteran Tigers, eastern senior champions of last year and conquerors of all Ontario senior opposition and Moncton Hawks in this spring's playoffs, were no match for the younger Royals in this series. It appeared as though only the great goal-tending of Art Curry in the Tiger nets kept the scores down.

SPEED OVERCAME experience as the younger Royals added last night's triumph to the 3-0 and 3-1 victories they scored in the first two games at Montreal.

A crowd of 10,000 at Maple Leaf Gardens saw Royals completely outplay their aged rivals, whose erratic passing proved costly. Play was rough and several times a free-for-all impended. Seven penalties were distributed by referee George Seed.

Royals opened the scoring at 3:47 of the first period when Ted Campeau scored on passes from Malone and Plamondon while Bob Laurent of Hamilton was in the penalty box. Dillon Brady knotted the score minutes later on Shillington's pass but Montreal dominated play and took the lead on Floy Curry's goal before the period ended.

GOALS BY LOCAS and Plamondon in the middle of the second period gave the Quebec champions a 4-1 lead and Casavant ended the scoring in the third period, while Bert Peet of Hamilton was in the cooler.

The Tigers seemed weary as the game neared its end and when they did break through diminutive Gerry McNeil in the Montreal nets looked as big as a brick wall.

HAMILTON—Chubb (13), Laurent; Hunsion; Mason, Liscombe, Sube; Dinning, Shillington, Brady, J. Conick, A. Conick, Cadieux, Peer.

MONTREAL—McNeill; Galbraith; Harvey; Campeau; Plamondon, Malone, Sube; Riopelle, Curry, Locas, Casavant, Morin, Lafore, Barlow, Leclerc.

Officials—Arnie Peterkin, George Seed, Ottawa; Maurice Peterkin, George Seed, Ottawa; Maurice Peterkin, George Seed, Ottawa.

Heating Jacket Helps Pitchers

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—After his one-bitter Tuesday against St. Louis Browns, Bob Feller was quoted as saying, approximately: "Fellows, I owe it all to my new electric heating jacket!"

My new electric heating jacket! Shades of Iron Man McGinnity, Christy Mathewson and the moustache cup! Has baseball become a mere matter of alternating current? Has—

BUT WAIT A MINUTE. An old timer, 37-year-old Clark Griffith, stepped up yesterday to defend this new-fangled contraption.

"It's all right," said the owner of the Washington Senators soothingly. "It's all right."

"I used to pitch myself, you know," said Griffith, the leading pitcher in the American League in 1901.

"It can get mighty cold up around the Great Lakes in the spring."

Why sometimes, pitching in Chicago, my hand got so cold in the late innings I couldn't even feel the ball."

Then if Walter Johnson had had an electric jacket, would he—

"Yes," cut in Griffith, "it should have helped him in the spring."

Full roster of Senators boarded the train east.

The Book of Knowledge

(Department: The Earth)

This and the following articles, something about the earth's interior. One way is by observing the effect of the earth's gravity upon the other planets, and then calculating what it must weigh. When that is done, we find that the earth is far heavier than the surface rock would indicate. Therefore the earth must have a very heavy central core.

MOUNTAIN RANGES AND THE EARTH'S CORE

Earlier articles described the various layers into which the earth is divided. It is believed that the hot inner shell of the lithosphere (rock sphere) is still pressing closer toward the center and, therefore, continually shrinking. Some places on the earth's crust (the outer part of the lithosphere) are stronger than others and hold firmly as the inner shell shrinks. Other places, being weaker, wrinkle downward or upward, like the skin on a withering apple.

This warping and buckling brings about great changes on our earth. Sometimes a region is steadily buckled and down-warped over a period of many years, and later after layer of ground-up rock is deposited in the wrinkles. Eventually, the crust may break in places, or the pressure may relax in one region and become stronger in another. So a new section begins to buckle, and an area of light-weight rock, formerly sunken, may start to rise slowly far above the average land level.

Diagram of earth's layers, from atmosphere to core.

Not all mountains are so formed, however. Some are built up on top of the old crystal rocks; and this type may grow much more rapidly. These are volcanic ranges and single peaks built up by volcanic action. We shall explain about volcanoes later. Here we wish only to speak of the principal layers of the earth.

Beneath the layers of lighter rock is heavy rock, and we believe that beneath the heavy rock there is a rock containing metal as you go toward the center. Iron and nickel are probably the chief metals.

We have means of knowing

TOMORROW: What is Daylight Saving?

have, we assume that these materials must be packed closely in the earth's inner core.

Lastly, we know that the earth must have a dense, heavy center because of the manner in which earthquake waves pass through it. Earthquakes are caused by sudden sharp breaks and movements in the crust; and vibrations (called "waves") from the place of the break radiate in all directions through the earth. A quake on the opposite side of the world will send out waves which reach us after passing through the center; and we can learn much about the layers through which it passes by studying the type of wave that reaches us and the rate at which it travels. All forms of evidence lead to the same conclusion, that the center of the earth is occupied by a heavy metal core.

Says Hutterites Respect Royalty

WINNIPEG, April 24.—(CP)—charges that pictures of the King and Queen had been turned to the wall in Hutterite schools in Manitoba were answered here yesterday by John Maendel, preacher at the Rosedale Colony, when appearing before the legislative committee investigating the Hutterite question.

The committee was appointed following public meetings held at Oakville and St. Eustache in Southern Manitoba at which resolutions were approved asking passage of an act restricting further expansion of the colonies.

Mr. Maendel said the Hutterite brethren hold "our King and Queen in highest esteem and respect."

Then ten commandments by which the Hutterites live state "Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image; he said, but it was only during religious observances that pictures had been turned to the wall.

"We did not know there were disrespectful connotations in so doing and if we have offended any one we are deeply sorry."

He added that there were no pictures or mirrors in Hutterite houses.

Solution Sought VLA Housing Delay

Solution of difficulties experienced in construction of homes of war veterans under the Veterans Land Act housing scheme on the old Grierson estate is hoped for as a result of a meeting of the executive of Canadian Legion Branch No. 24, held Tuesday.

Completion of about 19 homes has been held up it is claimed, as a result of some sub-contractors being behind in payments for the work.

After full discussion of the problem, the following were appointed as a committee to meet, if possible, with H. A. Allam, district superintendent of the Veterans Land Act.

President Percy J. Gwynne, Walter R. McLaren, E. Brown, A. F. MacDonald, R. J. Foote, S. H. Campbell and John Turner.

President Gwynne said after the meeting it was felt by the executive that a satisfactory solution of the contracting difficulties could be made.

Many veterans, without adequate housing, are anxiously awaiting completion of their homes in this area.

Refuse to Renew Sinatra's Contract

NEW YORK, April 24 (CP)—Lennin & Mitchell, advertising representative for P. Lorillard & Co., announced yesterday that the company would not renew the option in the contract with Frank Sinatra for his Wednesday night program on the Columbia Broadcasting System after the June 4 broadcast. The discontinuance, the agency said, was due to an "unsatisfactory program rating for the price we were paying for the show."

Three false pretenses charges were laid in Calgary Tuesday by city police. The charges are laid against Lawrence Eugene Kent, 31, of Calgary, who allegedly, got married, bought the rings and paid the minister with money he had stolen.

The marriage ceremony was performed in Calgary. While in Edmonton Kent is reported to have cashed three worth less checks for a total of $53. Kent married an Edmonton girl. Kent's two companions also married Edmonton girls recently. All six were on their way to Alaska. Kent will appear again in the Calgary city court on Tuesday, April 29.

Canada "Tortures" Old Age Pensioners

WINNIPEG, April 24 (CP)—Canada's legislators had failed to take into account the welfare of the people in regard to housing old age pensioners and other social services, C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Brotherhood of America (U.B.A.), said last night at a labor dinner in his honor. "It is a disgrace that the people who have provided sons and daughters for two wars should be required to live in shacks on $40-a-month (the old-age pension). The U.B.A. liquidated their own people and we cannot but be disgusted by the torture," he said.

Call For Return Slav Criminals

BEGRAD, April 24 (Reuters)—The Yugoslav press today renewed its campaign for the return to Yugoslavia of men, accused as war criminals, now in Italy and particularly of those reported held under arrest by military authorities there. Listing a number of alleged wartime collaborators under detention, one paper declared, "Yugoslav circles are exerting pressure on Anglo-American military authorities to save these criminals."

WINNIPEG, April 24 (CP)—General improvement in the wheat situation at east and west coast terminals was reported yesterday by the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada. ## Advised Against Improper Affair

Dear Miss Dix, I am 22 years old in love with a man six years older than I am. I know he loves me deeply, but the tragedy of it is that he is married and it is impossible for him to get a divorce. My idea of happiness has always been a home and children. I will never love another man and I know that I cannot hope to have either husband or child.

Do you think that I should take what little happiness I may have and live with this man secretly?

Answer: I believe that you have the right to all the happiness you can get out of life, and that is the reason why I urge you with all the earnestness that I command not to do a thing that will plunge you into lifelong misery. For you will find no happiness in an illicit affair. Your conscience will torment you. You will be dishonored in your own eyes.

There would be no happiness for you in a romance that was an unclean thing that you must hide around in dark corners and your love would not long survive. It would be killed by shame, by anxiety, by jealousy, by your fear of discovery.

MY ADVICE to you is to go away from this man and use all of your will power to forget him. Fill your life with new interests and in time you will meet the man who can offer you an honest love and decent marriage, and you will have the home and children you crave.

You may think that this is impossible and that you can never love again, but that is not true. The heart is built of tough and resilient fiber.

Dear Dorothy Dix, My wife and I are a middle-aged couple with grown children. I have built up a good business and my secretary, who is a married woman with children, has been with me for 15 years. She knows the business from A to Z and I could not get along without her.

Recently my wife has conceived the idea that I think more of this woman than I do of her and she torments me with jealousy. Neither the woman nor I have the slightest interest in each other except a business one. My wife demands that I dismiss this woman. If I do, I might as well sell out my business. What is your advice?

Answer: I think you would be very foolish to sell your business and dismiss your secretary, who is practically a necessity to your work. For no matter what you do, on whom you employed, your wife would be just as jealous. Jealousy is the most difficult passion in the world to combat because it is a form of insanity, born in a diseased and perverted imagination. It feeds and fattens on delusions. You cannot reason with it. You can not avoid rousing it, no matter how discreet your conduct.

I WISH I could give you some comfort, but there is no cure for jealousy. It is a disease for which no remedy has ever been found. And it is hopeless to deal with because a jealous husband or wife sees everything through his or her green spectacles.

Denies Importing 3,000 Nurses
OTTAWA, April 24.—(CP)—The health department said today there was "no foundation" for a report the department may consider bringing to Canada as many as 3,000 nurses from displaced persons camps in Europe.

The department made the statement in comment on a statement by Miss Rae Chittick, president of the Canadian Nurses Association, in Calgary Saturday that the Federal government already had approached one province to ascertain the reaction of Canadian nurses.

Why Grow Old?

Anyone may be bored as actress Joan Winfield so obviously is above, but if it's a regular thing you need new interests.

By Josephine Lowman
So you are bored? Why not do something about it? First, you might investigate your store of physical energy. Lowered vitality robs thought and interest and emotion of their keenness.

It is hard to be enthusiastic when you are tired unless the pull of your interest is very strong, and it is downright impossible to work up enthusiasm for a new activity when you are weary.

If your health is not at fault then perhaps you are bored because

STRONG AND HEALTHY

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B1, C, D, Riboflavin (B2), and Nicotin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complex proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underperforms, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The new baby is being introduced to solid foods earlier and earlier in his life. The pitfalls of early feeding may be avoided if the parent will stop a new food when it is showing obvious signs of disagreeing with the baby. Ordinarily, the baby does not get cereal until the second month, though orange juice and vitamin D are introduced by the sixth week.

Sometimes, even though the baby can digest the cereal, he finds it hard to swallow the thick or food. He pushes it around in his mouth, working on it as if it were a rubber nipple and then pushes it out. Even a week or two will make a great difference in the child's capacity to swallow and it may be desirable to wait for a time, instead of worrying the baby to get him to down the food.

Mrs. H. L. D.'s baby was introduced to new foods at ten days of age. "He was fed cereal at ten days, super D and orange juice at one month. By six weeks he had all the solid foods and fruit juices, also egg yolk."

"He had his first two central incisors at 3 1/2 months and is now nine months old and weighs 24 pounds and has eight teeth. He walks around his playpen and is strong and active."

"The baby was inoculated against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus beginning the third month. I enjoy your column a lot. It is so helpful to young mothers."

Thank you so much. Your advantage was, in having a pediatrician to guide you, the responsibility for this early feeding being on his shoulders.

The mother who is unable to command this personal service would do well to adopt a more conservative program of breast

Whites Living in Canal Zone Find All of Lives Regulated

By Ernie Pyle

BALBOA, Canal Zone, (CDN) — The people who inhabit the Panama Canal zone contend the strange lives they lead never have been better described than by late Ernie Pyle.

Pyle, when he was writing a column some 10 years ago called "The Roving Reporter" stopped by Panama and apparently succeeded in catching the spirit of the zone.

ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Get welcome relief from the wheezing, choking, gasping struggle for breath caused by Asthma. Take RAZ-MAH, specially made to relieve Asthma misery quickly and safely. and its people. Their lives and problems haven't changed much since the canal was finished at the turn of the century.

That column is quoted today by Panamanians and Canal Zoneites alike. Though he won greater fame as a war reporter, Pyle is considered a Panama institution. The people here feel that Pyle understood them.

No Mystery Left

One column, for example, was as follows:

"The nearly 4,000 white Americans who form the permanent staff of the Panama Canal are almost a race apart. It is a hard thing to describe, and they themselves will describe it in a thousand different ways, all trying to say the same thing.

"But to put it in a nutshell of my own brand, you might say they are the people who have had one of the fundamental elements of living taken away from them (or rather) have given it away, and by that I mean the element of chance.

"Because the government does everything for them; because it tells them where to live; what they can do and can't do; leads them by the hand; attends to them in work, play, sickness and almost in love, there is no mystery for them to look forward to.

"Voluntary Convicts"

"One of their own who sees them clearly has called them 'stuffed.' They have traded off the spirit of living to insure themselves security. They are voluntary convicts in a lonely penitentiary.

"Some friends and I were sitting one evening over a glass of beer; we were dressed in white suits, we were warm, we had money in our pockets. If we clapped our hands, a colored boy would come running; around us were palm trees and beautiful scenery and the teeming people from all points of the world were going and coming. Yet, these friends of mine were melancholy. There was in them a vague regret for their lives. They knew that 20 years from now they would be still sitting here in the evening after work, drinking beer, possibly from the same glasses, talking the same talk.

No Incentives

Pyle didn't say it in that column. But that means you start with a small apartment in an 8-family unit. After 10 years, you work up to a larger one, then to a duplex. After 20 years, perhaps, you get a home.

That means you buy what you need at the commissary. There are three selections in lamp shades, three in chinaware and four in bed spreads.

Canal Zone life is socialistic. In-

Can Hear Shot Around World

NEW YORK, (NANA)—A shot fired underwater now can be heard virtually around the world through the aid of Sofar, called the most important communications device since radar.

Sofar, which is the U.S. navy's shortened title for "sound fixing and ranging," promises to provide a means of quickly locating castaways or ships and planes in distress, according to an article in Science Illustrated.

For this lifesaving work, a small bomb is carried on ships or planes. This is thrown into the water in case of emergency. Preset to explode at a depth of three-quarters of a mile, the noise of the bomb is picked up at varying times by scattered Sofar stations on shore. By comparing the different elapsed times, the Sofar stations can triangulate the location of the explosion.

In pointing out the effectiveness of the device, the navy disclosed that a 6-pound test bomb was dropped from a ship near Dakar, West Africa. Three thousand miles away a Sofar station in the Bahamas picked up the sound of the explosion. Previously, no man had heard sound carried through the sea for more than a small fraction of this distance.

Credit for the discovery of the new device goes to Maurice Ewing, 40-year-old Columbia University geophysicist, who conducted numerous experiments at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute.

Farmer: "Let me tell you my friend, that horse knows as much as I do."

Friend: "Well, don't tell anybody else; you might want to sell him some day."
